Beacons Sunday School Class

John Wesley believed that the living core of the Christian faith was revealed in Scripture, illumined by tradition, vivified in personal experience, and confirmed by reason.

The Beacons subscribe to this statement and work to support local missions such as Women at the Well, Mission Under the Bridge, The Fisher House, and many more.

It would be a joy to welcome you to the Beacons Sunday School Class. Come see why we are so enthusiastic about life.

In August of 2003 Sr. Pastor Milton Lewis, wrote this about the Beacons “Simply put, the Beacons do everything a church should do....the Beacons are the most inclusive and hospitable group in the entire church, inviting just about anybody and everybody to participate in their class of fellowship events.

They love the Lord, and they love each other. They take care of each other, show concern for each other, and pray for each other. They see each other through life crises. Crises strengthen them. If one of their members dies, you will see the whole class at the funeral, and you will know that the surviving family members are being ministered to in their time of loss and grief.

The Beacons don't just meet on Sunday morning and then go their separate ways; rather, they are in almost continual fellowship. But they are not a closed group or a clique.”

Finally, he said “The Beacons are an Inspiration and an example in love, in hospitality, in generosity, and in faithfulness to Christ and his church.”

The mission of the Church is to make disciples of Jesus Christ. Local churches provide the most significant arena through which disciple-making occurs. Building close and lasting relationships, learning about Biblical history and finding a richer Christian life can be found through our Sunday School family.

the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send? And who will
